SunRail and the Orlando Magic Train-To-The-Game

Enjoy the convenience of free parking at all suburban SunRail stations and ride for FREE to the game!

ORLANDO, Fla. – SunRail and Orlando Magic fans have something extra to cheer about this season. Beginning Friday, October 25, SunRail’s seasonal Train-To-The-Game will add extended southbound service on weeknights (Monday-Friday) when the Magic have home games in the 2024-2025 season.

As part of the partnership, all Magic ticket holders may ride SunRail for FREE to and from weekday home games courtesy of the Orlando Magic. Magic fans just need to show their game ticket, either hard copy or electronically, to SunRail conductors for the FREE service.

“We are excited to partner with the Orlando Magic and bring this later train back to Central Florida,” said SunRail Chief Operations Officer, Charles M. Heffinger, Jr., P.E. “With the opening of our new DeLand Station this past August, we look forward to having even more fans on board this season.”

The Kia Center, where the Orlando Magic play, is just steps away from SunRail’s Church Street Station. The last northbound train to leave the Church Street Station is 10:30 p.m. and the extended southbound train for weekday game nights leaves at 11:06 p.m.

Please be careful around trains, railroad crossings, and while at station platforms. Be smart. Be safe. For more information about SunRail, including fares, schedule, and station locations, please visit www.SunRail.com, or download the SunRail app.
